

BUD TO BOSS

February 3-4, 2026 (8:00am-4:00pm)
9800 Old Placerville Rd, Sacramento CA 95827

Becoming a leader for the first time is one of the most challenging and critical career transitions you'll ever face. And with this transition comes challenges and changes – some expected and some unexpected. The reality is that leadership itself is complex and 40% of new managers fail within the first 18 months of being promoted. In this two-day training, you will learn strategies and techniques to master your role right from the start.

Learning Objectives:

- How to transition to your supervisory/leadership role
- The 11 components of the supervisor's role
- The critical differences between managing, leading, and championing change
- 10 ways to give better feedback
- How to manage conflict on your team
- 5 keys to a successful goal-setting mindset – and why it is important

Kevin Eikenberry is a world-renowned leadership coach and trainer as well as a multiple-time bestselling author. He is the Chief Potential Office of The Kevin Eikenberry Group, a leadership and learning consulting company that has been helping organizations, teams, and individuals reach their potential since 1993. His philosophy in business and in life is that every person and every organization have extraordinary potential.

For more information, please contact pgonzales@sia-jpa.org